THE BORN IDENTITY!

Four years after the Star first reported the story of Jade's fight for a birth certificate she finally wins her battle

A YOUNG woman from Harlow is looking forward to her first holiday abroad after a 20-year battle to prove her identity finally came to an end this week.

An administrative blunder meant Jade Jacobs-Brooks (20), of Longfield, was never provided with a birth certificate after being born during a family holiday in Spain in 1992.

With no means of proving her identity, she was condemned to a life of exclusion and left unable to obtain a passport, driving licence or bank account.

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

She found it almost impossible to secure a job, couldn't accompany her family on holidays abroad and struggled to get into pubs and clubs with her friends.

But after being presented with a copy of her birth certificate earlier this week, the former Burnt Mill School pupil said she was now looking

Man to stand trial for rape of schoolgirl 14 years ago

A MAN appeared in the dock at Chelmsford Crown Court accused of raping a schoolgirl in Harlow more than 14 years ago.

Airport worker Jon Molt (34), of Rushes Mead, Harlow, was remanded in custody pending the start of a trial on June 6 which is expected to last four days.

Molt entered a plea of not guilty to the charge.

He was arrested at his home in January this year by officers from the Kent and Essex Serious Crime Directorate Cold Case Investigation Team.

The charge relates to a sex assault on a 15-year-old girl on December 11, 1997. The alleged attack took place on a grassed hillock between Churchfields, Momples Road and First Avenue, known locally as Ten Metre Wood.

The investigation, which was extensively covered in the Star at the time, also attracted nationwide media interest and was featured on the BBC's Crimewatch UK.

It's an incredible feeling, now I can start living a normal life

forward to making up for lost time.

"It was an incredible feeling to finally hold my birth certificate in my hands," she said. "It meant I could at last start living a normal life."

"Most people take their identity for granted but being told time and time again that you don't officially exist is incredibly difficult to come to terms with. I couldn't even pick up a parcel at the local post office."

"Now I'm just looking forward to getting a passport and going abroad on holiday for the first time, but I definitely won't be going to Spain!"

Jade's problems began after UK officials told her parents they hadn't been provided with the correct documentation by the Spanish authorities to be able to register her birth in Britain.

Her family wrote to former Harlow MP Bill Rammell, the Prime Minister and even the Queen to beg for help in their battle against the bureaucrats, but all to no avail.

In desperation, her father Victor even returned to the hospital in Alicante where Jade was born, discovering to his horror that staff there had no record of his daughter's birth.

But their fortunes changed soon after Jade's 16th birthday when international law firm Allen & Overy took up her case on a pro-bono basis. They launched a four-year battle through the Spanish courts on her behalf, finally obtaining a copy of her birth certificate earlier this week.

Lawyer Andrew Denny told the Star the fight had been made more difficult by the unwillingness of both UK and Spanish authorities to help.

"We saw it as a human rights issue, as Jade has been unable to do many of the simple things that a normal citizen takes for granted," he said.

"It really shouldn't have been this difficult to resolve, particularly when it involved something as important as a person's identity, but neither the UK nor Spanish authorities wanted to take ownership of the problem."

"This should hopefully unlock this whole situation and let her get on with her life."

Now Jade's number one priority is to get a passport and explore the world to which she has been denied access her entire life.

"I'm so unbelievably grateful to the lawyers at Allen & Overy for sorting this mess out for me," she said. "I've finally got my life back."

"The first thing I'll be doing is getting a passport. After all, I've been waiting 20 years for a holiday!"

Fundraisers sleep out to help charity

A GROUP of 20 hardy souls bedded down for a night in the churchyard at St Mary-at-Latton Church in Harlow to raise funds for a charity helping the homeless.

They braced the chilly March conditions to raise more than £1,000 for Wych Elm-based Streets2Homes.

Charity manager Kerrie Eastman said: "I think everyone who took part is more aware of the issues surrounding homelessness and found the experience extremely humbling."

FURIOUS residents have called on police to crack down on vandalism in their neighbourhood after yobs transformed their community play area into a rubbish-strewn wasteland.

The youth shelter and hand-standing behind the Berecroft estate have been repeatedly targeted by vandals in recent weeks, with the area now littered with broken glass and plastered with graffiti.

Rubbish dumped on the playing surface has been set alight, a seating area has been ripped apart and on-site lighting has been smashed causing thousands of pounds worth of damage.

According to Berecroft Residents' Association, which spent years securing the funding for the handstanding to be built, it could now cost up to £3,000 to repair – money the group simply cannot afford.

Chairman Zulquar Cheema said: "We've worked so hard to provide this area for our community so it's incredibly frustrating to see it vandalised in this way."

"The mindless idiots responsible for causing this damage have deprived the youngsters living here of a place where they regularly go to play football and meet their mates."

He added: "The problem is that there's no real deterrent to make them think twice before doing things like this, and people are too scared to report them to police."

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"When they're caught, they should be made to pay for the repairs or forced to carry them out themselves. That's the only way they'll ever learn."

"But most of the time they're let off with a slap on the wrist, leaving people like us to try and pick up the pieces while they move on to their next target."

Inspector Tony Smith of Essex Police said local PCSOs were aware of the problem and would be prioritising the area for increased patrols.

"It's such a shame that who we presume to be local young people have smashed up a shelter provided by the local community for local young people."

"I very much hope this appalling behaviour will cease but we would of course welcome any information from members of the public regarding these incidents."

Harlow Council also plans to step up Community Ranger patrols in the area in a bid to curb further anti-social behaviour.

A spokesman said: "It is disappointing that these community facilities have been vandalised and we urge local residents who may have witnessed this to report it to the police."

"The council will do what it can to help the community and we have already asked our Community Rangers to step up patrols in the area."

Shared care a huge help to all our lives

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

AS national Share the Care week comes to an end, one family has used the campaign to raise awareness about shared care and the important work of local disability charity Accuro.

When Angela and Martin Jackson, of Potter Street, Harlow, had their third child Kian two years ago, they knew something wasn't quite right.

It had been a quick delivery and he'd been born weighing just 4lb 12oz. However, it wasn't until two months later when Kian was rushed to hospital with projectile vomiting that their worst fears were confirmed – their son's brain had not fully developed and he was disabled.

"My first thought was that life would never be 'normal' again," said Angela. "On my way home from the hospital I told Martin not to tell anyone that Kian had a disability. I felt I would rather hide away with Kian than face people."

Over the following months Angela struggled to cope with Kian's special needs while also looking after her other young children Kallie and Tyler – but was too scared to leave him with anyone else.

However, things greatly improved when the family were put in touch with Accuro and placed on the charity's Shared Care Scheme last January.

"We were introduced to an approved carer who lived in Ware and it was agreed she would care for Kian on a regular basis in her own home," Angela explained.

"It meant a break for both me and Martin from caring and the chance to be able to spend some quality time with our other children again."

The scheme, which is free to all children with a disability residing in West Essex, aims to match families with a shared carer to provide the children with a positive experience whilst giving the family a short break.

The shared carers are all volunteers specifically recruited for the role after undergoing a careful assessment and training programme.

Angela added: "Shared care has provided me with the opportunity to be able to get on with other things safe in the knowledge that Kian is happy and being well cared for. It really has made a huge difference to all of our lives."

For more information about the Shared Care Scheme or to enquire about becoming a shared carer, call (01279) 433117 or email enquiries@accuro.org.uk.

DISCO divas are being encouraged to dig out their flares and platform shoes to raise money for breast cancer research.

The Boobie Nights fancy dress event taking place on Saturday has been organised by Luci Jones (23), of Katherine's, who is walking over a third of the Great Wall of China in aid of Breakthrough Breast Cancer in September.

The photography student is hoping her '70s-themed evening held at The Square will help her achieve a big chunk of her £1,500 fundraising target.

"I finish university this summer and with no prospect of finding a job I thought I'd keep busy with a big fundraising challenge," she told the Star.

"This is my first event and looks set to be a brilliant night featuring all the '70s favourites. I hope everyone will come down and get their funk on for a great cause!"

The evening starts at 9pm and tickets cost £4 in advance or £5 on the door. For more information, call Luci on 07805 06775.

Bikers on a hunt for Easter eggs

LOCAL bikers are being encouraged to burn some rubber to give children at Princess Alexandra Hospital an eggs-ellent Easter.

Harlow-based group the Rough Creed Motorcycle Club have organised an Easter Egg bike run to collect as many chocolate treats as possible from around the town. These will then be presented to the hospital's children's ward.

The only entry requirements to take part in the all-day ride, which follows a pre-planned route around the town, is to bring an Easter Egg and have access to a motorbike.

Club vice-principal Richard West said: "It's the first time we have ever organised an event like this so we are really hoping to make an impression. We want all the family to get involved and hope local businesses will further support us by donating eggs as we go round."

The bike ride takes place on Saturday, starting at 9.30am at The Square in Fourth Avenue. For more information, call Richard on 07931 163117.

St Clare lottery

The winner of the £1,000 prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, March 23 is ticket holder 805392, who lives in Harlow.

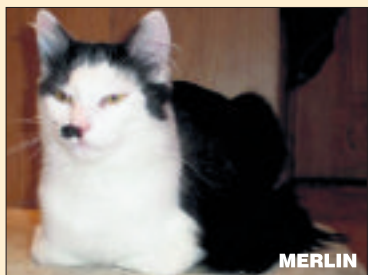

The second prize of £100 goes to the holder of ticket number 406003, who also lives in Harlow.

The cats that have been left waiting to find a new home

TWO local animal shelters are appealing to Harlow residents looking for a purr-fect companion to consider giving a home to some of their long-term residents.

The RSPCA's Stort Valley branch, based in The Stow, is desperate to find a home for eight-month-old black and white cat Merlin, who has been with them for nearly six months.

"Merlin came in with three brothers and sisters as a tiny kitten after being born in a garden to an abandoned domestic mother," said the charity's re-homing co-ordinator Marion Wellsman.

MERLIN

"Since then all of Merlin's siblings have been adopted but he has just been left behind, which is really sad. "He is a lovely cat, although a little nervous around noise so probably better with older people. We would just really like to find him a good home before he begins drawing out his pension!" Meanwhile, Sue Garnage, a volunteer at the Chestnut Cat Sanctuary in Thornwood Common, said the centre has several long-term residents needing a home.

ELSA

"We particularly have trouble re-homing our older animals," she said. "It is a shame as it is the older ones that have really developed their own characters and make brilliant companions.

"We'd especially like to find five-year-old Elsa a new home as she's been here a number of months now and is such a sweet little thing.

"She has a slight spine disorder but it doesn't require any treatment, just a loving, quiet home to take care of her."

For more information about adopting either cat, contact the RSPCA Stort Valley branch on (01279) 306058 or the Chestnut Cat Sanctuary on (01992) 560510.

Rosie celebrates her 100th with a cuppa

SPRIGHTLY Rosie Johnson celebrated her 100th birthday on Monday in the company of three generations of her family. Hackney-born Rosie, who moved to Harlow in the mid-1970s, marked the milestone with a tea party at Alexandra House Care Home, in Hamstel Road, where she lives.

Some 20 family members - including the former machinist's two daughters, three granddaughters and three great-granddaughters - shared the finger buffet laid on by staff before enjoying a slice of cake with the birthday girl.

Daughter Avril Brown (77), of The Chantry, said: "Mum had a wonderful time and the day went beautifully.

"It was lovely to see so many family members there, some of whom hadn't seen her in a long while so there was a lot of gassing as you can imagine! "Mum is in in good health for her age and was thrilled to get her card from the Queen. She had a big smile on her face and really enjoyed herself."

Driver injured after car crashes into tree

A MOTORIST suffered serious injuries after his car struck a tree on the A414 in Harlow.

The accident happened at about 6pm on Saturday when the blue Peugeot 306 left the stretch of road between the roundabouts at Church Langley Way and First Avenue. No other vehicles were involved.

The 29-year-old driver had to be cut from the wreckage of his vehicle by firefighters. He was then taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital.

The A414 was closed in both directions following the collision.

Army bomb experts explode WW2 shell

BOMB disposal experts were called to a Harlow depot after shocked workers discovered a wartime shell containing 25lbs of live explosives.

The device, which dates back to the Second World War, was first thought to be a replica when it was uncovered by Kier operatives during a routine clear-out of a garage in Jocelyns on Thursday afternoon.

But after taking it back to the company's depot in Mead Park, staff became suspicious and alerted police, who sought the assistance of a bomb disposal team from Colchester.

One worker said the discovery caused quite a stir at the River Way site.

"The site was closed for the afternoon and everyone had to be evacuated," he said. "It was a huge bomb and fortunately not something we come across often!"

A police spokesperson confirmed that an Army bomb disposal team stayed on the site until shortly before midnight, when the shell was placed into a truck and taken under police escort to a farm in Matching Green.

The area was cordoned off for the night before the squad returned the next morning to perform a controlled detonation.

Harlow Council provided 300 sandbags, 40 tonnes of sand and a JCB digger to help

EXPLOSIVE: The Second World War shell found in a garage at Jocelyns with the disposal as part of its emergency response role.

A spokesman said: "The council supported the police and emergency services by providing a sub-contractor to help with preparing the site for safe detonation.

"We did not need to ask people to leave their homes as the device was contained by bomb disposal experts at the Mead Park depot."

The spokesman added that the council had asked police to check with the garage tenant to make sure he was not storing any other similar devices.

He added: "This appears to be a one-off incident of a wartime item being kept. However, we are awaiting a further report from the police."

Cut in opening hours for court

THE opening hours of Harlow's magistrates court will be cut from Monday as the Ministry of Justice moves to centralise remand hearings at Chelmsford.

The courthouse will only open on Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays to hear trials relevant to the Harlow area. It will also be used as a pilot for video link cases.

Shalini Subherwal, a lawyer working at Whiskers Solicitors in Kitson Way, said the change was "disappointing".

"At what is already an emotional time for everyone involved with a court case, a lot of people will now have the additional worry of extra travel expenses enforced upon them," she said. "With benefits also being cut a lot of people are going to really struggle to get to Chelmsford."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon, who launched a successful campaign in 2010 against the planned closure of the courthouse, said: "I welcome the fact that the Government have continued to invest in a magistrates' court in Harlow and believe it is better to have a court dealing with some cases than for it to be closed down completely."

Parents' over-reaction is not helping children

SIR, I am writing to voice my disgust at the parents' reactions to having Mark Hall allocated as their children's secondary school (Star, March 22). I feel that this item did not warrant headline news, especially as it paints an awful picture of Mark Hall which is not only misguided but has no consideration for the parents and children who currently attend the school.

Obviously the recent Ofsted reports were slightly worrying but plans are in place to deal with the issues raised and this year's GCSE results were comparable to some of the other schools in Harlow.

My eldest daughter has recently left Mark Hall with excellent GCSE passes while my youngest child has only just started there and is progressing well in all her subjects and enjoys attending the school.

It now seems that since there has been much media exposure on a certain school in Harlow this has now suddenly become the best school in the town and some parents feel that their children have to go there at any cost.

The report indicated that some of the children at Henry Moore School were upset and inconsolable on being allocated a place at Mark Hall. I feel this hysteria has been prompted by rumours and incorrect information spread by certain parties whose children have never attended the school.

It is obviously disappointing not to get your child's chosen secondary school, but this overreaction by parents does not help their children and just makes them even more apprehensive and worried before starting a new school.

Name and address supplied

Tax cuts will benefit many Harlow families

SIR, Last week's report about the budget claimed that a Harlow family earning just £20,000 will lose £253. This is inaccurate.

The truth is that every single Harlow family earning £20,000 will be better off

The danger of labelling schools 'good' or 'bad'

SIR, What a shame that parents have bought into the notion of 'good schools' and 'parental choice'. (Star, March 22).

One of the great features of Harlow in the past has been that its schools have been comprehensive, inclusive and have worked together to share good practice. Now, with league tables and the pressure to apply for academy status, they are pitted against each other in competing for students.

Having worked in education in Essex for many years, I know that there is very little to choose between any of the secondary schools in Harlow and that if, as parents, you support your local school and encourage your children to do their best, they will achieve whichever school they attend.

Our children all attended our nearest Harlow secondary school and all three have developed into well balanced and compassionate adults with the motivation and skills to continue learning for life.

I have to admit an interest as I taught at Mark Hall for the last five years of my teaching career. Naming and shaming schools as good or bad can easily become a self-fulfilling prophecy when parents are allowed to choose their child's school because those deemed 'bad' will suffer falling rolls and lead to cuts in teaching and ancillary staff whilst those deemed 'good' can go from strength to strength.

It also allows the Government to create scapegoats instead of doing their job which is to make every neighbourhood school a good one, with a motivated and properly rewarded workforce.

Parents should not relay their disappointment and fears to their children when they fail to get their school of choice but should reassure them that they will do well at whichever school they attend in Harlow. Parents should support their local neighbourhood school and feel assured that their children will get a good education at Mark Hall, as good as that at any other school in the town.

Parents and the local community who want the best for their children should not fall into the Government's privatisation and blame trap by promoting an entirely manufactured set of differences between schools.

They should, instead, campaign for a return to a truly comprehensive, properly funded state education system before it is too late.

Government taking with both hands

SIR, After the millionaire's budget proved as big a publicity disaster for the Conservatives as it is for the country, it appears Harlow Tories are getting all agitated.

There has been a social media storm on Twitter and on blogs, with one councillor tweeting talking about 'tax smears' and our local MP taking to the blogosphere.

Following on from the Tories failing to mention their planned three per cent rise in council tax each year for the four years after their freeze and the £3m blackhole they are going to leave the next administration, once again they have been highly selective with the facts.

They cite the rise in personal allowances as meaning that every single Harlow family earning £20,000 will be better off while quietly forgetting to mention the impact of the other measures.

The increase in the personal allowance is outweighed by the VAT rise, cuts to tax credits and higher petrol duty. A family with children earning just £20,000 loses £253 a year from this April.

This is on top of the VAT rise which is costing a family an average of £450 per year.

It should be noted these figures have been confirmed by the House of Commons Library, not a simplistic calculator in the Daily Telegraph. Suzy Stride had it spot on in last week's Star.

Of course they also forget to mention that freezing age-related allowances for pensioners will result in real terms cuts, presumably to pay for tax cuts for the rich.

Once again this is the Government giving with one hand but taking away much, much more with the other. But then they have never let the facts get in the way of a good political spin.

Falsehoods must be answered with facts

SIR, I am surprised that Labour's prospective Parliamentary candidate is quoted in your columns saying that a family in Harlow earning just £20,000 will lose £253 a year from this April.

She does not specify the composition of this family, nor their circumstances. She might as well have plucked them out of the air.

It rather reminds me of the Labour group's 'back of an envelope' approach to budget proposals in our council. That's probably the reason they didn't make any alternative budget proposals either this year or last year – they had probably run out of envelopes.

I cannot believe this sloppy thinking was the work of Ms Stride, rather that it was thrown together by some members of her local party who have been scaremongering with misinformation on many important issues for some months now.

Anyhow, we have available detailed estimates of the impact on some ordinary families of George Osborne's excellent, upbeat Budget which is set to encourage work and growth for Britain's recovery from the mess in which Labour left it.

Anyone who wants to know the truth should check the independent Budget calculator provided by the accountants Grant Thornton.

Falsehoods must always be answered with facts.

Cllr Joshua Jolles (Conservative)
Civic Centre, Harlow

Scaremongering in the chase for votes

SIR, Politicians like to remind us they care and yet when it suits them they are not slow to peddle falsehoods and dabble in scaremongering.

I appreciate they want to get elected and what better way to do that than to scare people? But in their mad rush to grab our votes what they should not forget is that a lot of vulnerable people, including the elderly like myself, are hurt and troubled by all this scaremongering.

I wish Labour would stop playing their silly games. After all, they left our country in a frightful mess.

My state pension will be going up by more than £5 a week in April; that's the biggest rise ever. At the moment my tax-free allowance is £9,940, next year it will increase to £10,500. That means I will be able to keep even more of my pension. I'm still getting my free bus-pass. We should keep calm and carry on.

I'm not suggesting that I agree with everything the Conservatives are doing but I've been around long enough to know when someone is being honest and upfront with me, and at the moment it's not Labour.

June Davey
Joyners Field, Harlow

Debt figure of £16m plucked from the air

SIR, Labour councillor Mike Danvers wrote last week that the new scheme for financing council houses would cost £16m a year, more than we – the tenants – are paying to government under the present scheme.

Like many other financial figures quoted by Labour, this is pure fantasy. It is a number picked from the air to cause alarm and worry to the vulnerable.

Cllr Danvers knows what the correct figure is. It is at least half the amount he quotes and millions below what we pay now. He is, after all, his party's representative on the council's finance standards panel, a mixture of tenants, officers and councillors examining housing finance and value for money.

The panel has been studying for months the impact of the changes and the various options available to the council and tenants. So does he not understand or is he wilfully setting out to mislead people?

Either way, it is easy to see why Labour can never be trusted with our money.

Housing bands are cruel waste of time

SIR, I read Clare Harrison's letter (Star, March 22) with interest and wanted to let her know she isn't on her own with regards the housing situation. Our daughter, who is 22, is in the same boat.

She is in band four on the waiting list and has been for almost seven years. Every time she bids for a flat/bedsit someone from bands one or two always get it. What is the point of bands three and four?

It is a cruel waste of time. I see my daughter bidding, knowing she hasn't got a chance in hell of getting the accommodation that she so desperately wants.

Years ago council housing went to hardworking families who couldn't afford a mortgage. Now it seems to go to immigrants, people on the dole or single mothers.

Why should girls have to get pregnant just to get housing? This country is morally broke.

Mrs A. Davison

Bring back brooms, forks and spades

SIR, I am writing in response to the article about Harlow Council's efforts to keep the town green and clean (Star, March 15).

What about giving street cleaners back their brooms and taking away those silly blower contraptions they have been using of late. All they do is block up the drains with leaves and rubbish, leading to flooding when it rains.

Also bring back litter pickers. The hedges in the service road at the rear of The Stow are filled with cans and bottles that have been there for ages.

The same could be said for council gardeners. Give them a fork and spade to dig over flowerbeds over and take away the hedge trimmers they used last year to take the tops of the weeds in the front of my house.

As a taxpayer I am not concerned whether enough money has been put aside to watch some sad people running through Harlow carrying a torch.

Tidy our town up and stop it looking like a film set for a cowboy film.

N.A. Whitehouse
Orchard Croft, Harlow

Labour will fight to save green spaces

SIR, Prior to the 2010 General Election, Robert Halfon called on Harlow residents to vote Conservative "to support the fight to keep Essex green" and claimed to believe in "preserving Harlow's green spaces and opposing Labour's plans to bulldoze our villages".

He ignored the fact that it was under the post-war Labour government that the 1947 Town and Country Planning Act was passed to defend our countryside. The same Government introduced the 1946 New Towns Act, which led to settlements like Harlow being planned, incorporating green wedges and taking on many garden city principles.

Prepare for changes to the Tax Credit system

WORKING parents and people over 50 returning to work after being on benefits are among those who will be affected by the changes to the Tax Credit system coming into force next month.

Couples with children will have to work at least 24 hours per week rather than the current 16. The hours can be shared between them but one will have to work at least 16.

As a result, many couple claimants currently receiving working tax credit will find that this will stop in April.

This change will not affect couples with children where the worker working at least 16 hours is entitled to the disability element or is over 60.

It will not affect those who work 16 hours and the partner is incapacitated, in hospital or in prison.

Whilst there are increases in the rates for child tax credits, there will be many families who will cease to be entitled to child tax credit altogether.

Currently, families with an income of up to £40,000 are entitled to some child tax credit but from April families who earn around £26,000 may lose their entitlement. However, there is no cut-off point and those with larger families and childcare costs may still remain entitled even if their income is substantially higher.

The extra amount paid to people over

Information from Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice

Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice provides specialist advice and tribunal and court representation on matters involving benefits, housing, employment and debt. Information on a range of other subjects is also available. Appointments can be made to see specialist advisers and solicitors. Contact the service on (01279) 446622 or by calling in at the Advice Centre, 2 East Gate, The High, between 10am and 1.30pm on weekdays. Out-of-hours appointments and home visits are available if necessary.

50 who are returning to work after being on benefits will also be abolished, even for those already in receipt of it. From April there is a new 'disregard' for falls in income of up to £2,500. What this means is that if a claimant's income falls by up to £2,500 from the previous year, their tax credit will not be increased to reflect this. If the decrease in income is more than £2,500, the first £2,500 will be ignored. For example a lone parent earning £15,000 per year tells HMRC that their income has reduced to £10,000. HMRC calculate her award based on an income of £12,500.

It will only be possible to backdate new claims by up to one month (currently claims can be backdated by three months).

The Tax Credit system is complicated and people should seek advice if they are unsure about their entitlement.

Indeed, the recognition during the Second World War that good planning is a powerful antidote to urban sprawl brought together a seemingly unlikely alliance of the Town and Country Planning Association (at the time advocating the development of new towns when peace returned), the Council for the Preservation of Rural England and wealthy landowners.

The current Tory-led Government is advancing the National Planning Policy Framework, which recommends the removal of the protection given to the countryside by the 1947 Act and presumes that the default answer to development proposals will be 'yes'.

In these circumstances I very much share the alarm of rural preservation and conservation groups such as the National Trust and fear that, for all the talk of localism, it will make it yet more difficult to prevent unlimited development in inappropriate locations like Gilden Way.

Under the National Planning Policy Framework it seems that it will be increasingly problematic to keep Essex green and that it will fall to Labour to fight to preserve Harlow's green spaces and oppose Tory plans to bulldoze our villages.

Thomas Newens
Labour candidate for Old Harlow

Make them clean up

SIR, Now that KFC has opened a new drivethrough takeaway at Edinburgh Way, shouldn't these people be responsible for clearing up the rubbish that is left by their customers in the Comet, Argos and Homebase car park.

Up until KFC opened, the car park was always clean. Obviously this was not thought about before planning consent was given.

I believe they should be made to employ someone to do this.

SPORTY residents went the distance for charity on Sunday as hundreds took part in the Sport Relief Mile challenge in Harlow Town Park.

The event, which doubled up as the official launch of the town's 65th birthday celebrations, saw more than 280 runners complete the one, three or six-mile routes for the charity fundraiser.

All those who took part received a medal. Harlow Council chairman Mike Garnett and paralympian Noel Thatcher were on hand to congratulate the runners.

But the fun didn't stop at the finishing line, with more than 1,600 people visiting Pets' Corner throughout the day and scores of children enjoying donkey rides.

New walking maps listing 15 famous Harlow landmarks were also handed out and Cllr Garnett marked the start of the town's 65th anniversary celebrations by cutting a giant birthday cake, pictured below.

"The Town Park event was a great way to mark both Sport Relief and the official start of Harlow's 65th birthday," he said.

"There was a real community feel to things, whether you were running around the park or enjoying the sunshine and Pets' Corner.

"We also hope lots of people took the opportunity to use our Harlow walking maps and see some other parts of the town.

"Harlow may have turned 65 but as anyone in the park on Sunday saw, Harlow people have no intention of slowing up!"

Noel Thatcher, pictured right with Cllr Garnett, added: "It was an amazing day which showed the people of Harlow and the surrounding towns at their very best, with young and old, able-bodied and disabled, sporty and less sporty coming together for a great cause.

"Hopefully the day will also encourage more people to take advantage of the town's green spaces and get active."

Your chance to rate council's performance

RESIDENTS are being given the chance to have their say on Harlow Council's performance and provision of services on a new online questionnaire launched by the authority this week.

The results of the customer satisfaction survey, which takes 20 minutes to complete, will be used to help shape future priorities.

All those taking part will be entered into a prize draw with the chance to win one of three £30 high street shopping vouchers.

Council leader Andrew Johnson said: "We regularly carry out surveys to find what residents' priorities are and how they feel services are performing."

"The results will help the council assess and improve its services, so it is time well spent."

He added: "By doing the survey online it saves the council hundreds of pounds in postage and processing costs. However, on the back of the spring edition of the council's magazine residents can take part in a mini survey or request a paper copy of the full survey."

The deadline for completing the questionnaire, which is available on the council's website at www.harlow.gov.uk/consultation, is April 30.

To request a paper version of the survey, call (01279) 446741 or drop into the Civic Centre in The Water Gardens.

Man jailed for sex offence on girl, 15

A MAN with learning disabilities and the behaviour of a young child has been jailed for two years for a sex offence against a 15-year-old girl.

Brinley Dunn (30), formerly of New Road, Harlow, had admitted forcing his victim to perform a sex act on him.

He was sentenced at Chelmsford Crown Court on Monday after pleading guilty at a hearing in January to the offence of sexual activity with a child.

The court heard that Dunn has learning disabilities, an IQ in the 50-60 range and a functioning age of 8-11.

His legal representative, Catherine Bradshaw, said he was not a sexual predator but preferred to hang around with people

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk younger than himself because he felt more comfortable in their company.

"He is more of the age where people are hanging around parks," she added. "He's not comfortable going to pubs or nightclubs with people of a similar age."

Judge David Turner described the offence, which happened in a park in Halstead in May of last year, as a "deeply wrong and sordid episode" and said the victim was still haunted by it.

He accepted the physical force used by the defendant was minimal and that the two had probably kissed earlier.

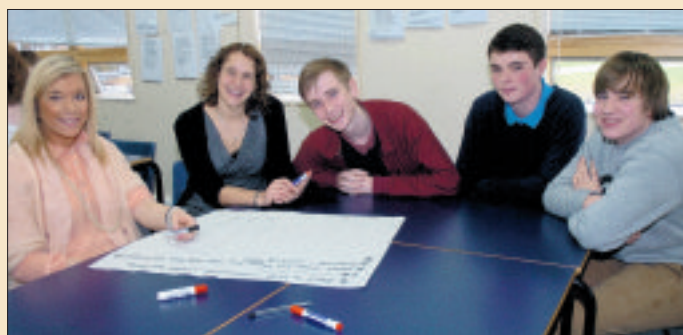

But he told Dunn: "You did nothing to check her age, you didn't stop to think she might have been affected by drink or she might not have been keen to engage in this sort of behaviour."

He said Dunn's record of previously touching a woman's breast and exposing himself presented "a very worrying and concerning picture" which suggested he continued to be a risk to the public.

The judge said he had no alternative but to send Dunn to prison even though it was an experience he would probably find "difficult and baffling".

Dunn, now of Witham, was also made the subject of a sexual offences prevention order for three years which bans him from contacting or associating with any female under 16 without her parents' permission or remaining in the immediate vicinity of any school without good reason.

He will also have to sign the sex offenders' register for 10 years.

Labour hopeful quizzes students

STUDENTS at Harlow College were given the chance to help shape future Labour policy during a question-and-answer session with the party's parliamentary candidate for the town.

Suzy Stride was invited to the college to ask the group of more than 40 students how politicians could engage more effectively with younger voters.

The responses she received will now be reported back to a Labour policy review led by Baroness Jan Royall, which will in turn influence the policy-making process ahead of the next election manifesto.

Ms Stride said she had been impressed by the ideas put forward by the students

"It was fantastic to meet young people who really cared about their area," she said. "They had some great ideas about how they wanted to engage in politics and the types of politicians they wanted to engage with."

"It was very interesting and really helpful to hear their thoughts and ideas. I listened carefully to what they had to say and will be feeding their ideas in to the policy review."

Journalism tutor Lewis Heritage added: "For many of these students, politicians remain distant individuals far beyond their reach. But meeting Suzy has shown this group of trainee journalists that politicians have not forgotten young voters and in fact care about what they have to say."

The Mitchellaires on Saturday night

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Do you recognise any of the musicians keeping the crowds entertained at the Key Glass Sports and Social Club?

The gentleman playing the banjo is Phil Caswell, whose son Michael sent in the photograph.

And he believes the accordion was being played by a Mr Long, while the man dressed in black and standing behind his father is Bert Morten.

"I don't know any of the others," said Michael, of Parsonage Leys, Harlow. "I think they were all either co-workers or neighbours of my Dad."

"Everybody used to go along and watch them back in the day, though. They were a popular group."

The photograph was taken in the Key Hole – the social club for workers at container manufacturers Key Glass – and is titled 'The Mitchellaires'. Michael thinks this was the name of the band.

"I can't remember exactly what they used to call themselves but that name does seem to ring a bell so could very well be it," he said.

"They used to just meet up from time to time and usually performed on Saturday nights or at special events. They would play dance and pop music and even the Can-Can and always managed to get everyone up on their feet."

Michael said his father, who has now passed away, could also play the mandolin and ukulele.

"I think Dad first started playing in the war," he said. "He was completely self taught and very talented; he was obviously blessed with a musical ear. He was always playing to me and my sister at home."

He added: "Harlow was brilliant in those days and we all really looked out for each other. Everyone always enjoyed a get together and had a good time. It was very different to what it is today."

The day Spain thrashed England

WERE you part of the great England versus Spain football match played in Harlow in 1980?

It was regular Nostalgia contributor Marlene Brooks of Fold Croft who sent in this picture of the hardy English line-up preparing to face their opposition – a group of Spanish students visiting the town on a school exchange.

She explained: "In the early eighties many of us had students to stay over for the summer. We have had a grand total of 54 stay at our house over the years which was a very enriching experience for our children as well as us."

"When the Spanish students came in 1980 the men decided to have a Spain versus England football match and the photo shows the England team. My husband Clive is the man in the white T-shirt."

Though Marlene can't recall where the match was played, she does remember that things took a turn for the worst towards the end.

"I remember Clive lost his wedding ring that day," she said. "And the England team lost the match to Spain 6-1."

She added: "Maybe some of your readers know more?"

School's plea for help to celebrate 40th anniversary

They have refused free tickets for his other show Aspel and Company because of the insults to Harlow. Of the 260 members of the Active Retirement 50 plus group offered the tickets, only 16 wanted to go.

➡ More homes for the needy was the main birthday wish for leading citizens in the town as Harlow celebrates its 40th anniversary this week. When MP Jerry Hayes was asked what what he thought the best present Harlow could get was, he replied: "More jobs, more prosperity and five more years of me!"

➡ A Harlow hotel had a lot on its plate when it served breakfast for three Sumo wrestlers. The hungry guests, who weigh over 30 stone each, put away two dozen eggs and a mountain of bacon rashers and sausages every morning whilst staying at the Moat House Hotel. They were in the area to film a martial arts video.

Schoolgirl Holly's Olympic honour

A PUPIL at a school in Old Harlow is glowing with pride after being chosen to carry the Olympic torch.

Holly Lambert, who attends St Nicholas School in Hobbs Cross Road, is one of 212 12-year-olds picked to take part in the torch relay after being nominated by one of her teachers, Edna Reilly, for her sporting excellence.

She will carry the torch as it passes through the Suffolk town of Haverhill on Saturday, July 7.

Holly, pictured with mum Donna jumping for joy after hearing the news, said she had wept tears of joy after finding out she had been selected.

"Everyone is really happy and excited and I just can't wait to do it now!" she said.

Mrs Reilly said: "Holly has represented Great Britain in gymnastics in front of 75,000 people in Lausanne's Olympic Stadium in Switzerland and hopes that one day her hard work and training will see her competing for Great Britain at the Olympics. "She puts her heart and soul into all her sports and, indeed, every aspect of her school life. She is a fine representative of the Olympic values."

She added: "We are very proud of her and hope she enjoys her wonderful achievement!"

Pensioners 'hit hard in the budget'

THE chairman of a pensioners' rights group has accused Chancellor George Osborne of launching a "cynical stealth attack" on the over 65s in last week's budget.

Les Coben (83) of Harlow Pensioners' Action Association said Mr Osborne's decision to freeze age-related tax allowances would hit thousands of the town's pensioners in the pocket.

He also dismissed next month's £5.30 rise in the basic weekly state pension – hailed by Conservatives as the biggest increase ever – as an "empty gesture" that would immediately be swallowed up by spiralling food, fuel and energy prices.

"This Government has shown its true colours in this year's budget," Mr Coben told the Star. "The Chancellor has given his millionaire pals a tax cut while pensioners, many of whom are struggling to make ends meet as it is, take a direct hit."

"They then have the audacity to say they're giving us a generous handout by upping the state pension, but the reality is that with inflation this extra money will not even cover the

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

increasing costs of food and petrol, let alone our soaring energy bills."

Government ministers have defended the move as a necessary simplification of the tax system, and Harlow MP Robert Halfon insisted pensioners would not lose out as a result of the planned changes.

"At present a pensioner's tax-free allowance is £9,940. Next year it will increase to £10,500, meaning every single pensioner in Harlow will be better off."

"Harlow pensioners will see the biggest ever rise in the state pension this April, while the Conservative-led Government is also restoring the link between pensions and earnings, ensuring that a typical pensioner will now actually get an additional £15,000 in extra state pension over their lifetime compared to Labour's plans."

He added: "The fact is that the basic state pension is rising faster than the current rate of inflation, faster than wages, and faster than unemployment benefit, too."

But Suzy Stride, Labour's parliamentary candidate for Harlow, echoed the criticism of Mr Coben and said the tax freeze would leave pensioners struggling to make ends meet.

"It shows just how out of touch the Tory-led government is," she said. "It may be good for millionaires but it is not good for Harlow's pensioners."

Crew team give youngsters some crucial advice on personal safety

YOUNGSTERS had their safety skills put to the test when they took part in the annual Crucial Crew event in Harlow.

The interactive scheme saw Year Six pupils from schools throughout the town participating in a number of scenarios that required them to make decisions about issues relating to alcohol, drugs, road safety, stranger danger, bullying and personal safety.

The session organised by the Safer Harlow Partnership in conjunction with Harlow Council, Kier Harlow and the town's emergency services was held at the Latton Bush Centre in Southern Way.

The children, who are all preparing to move up to secondary school, were presented with a number of different situations highlighting personnel safety issues and encouraged make the right choices.

Kier Harlow senior landscape officer Ray Matthews said: "Crucial Crew aims to raise awareness of the potential dangers that children could face as they take the next step into the big wide world in a fun and interactive way.

"We hope that by the end of the day each child is equipped with the necessary skills and knowledge to make good life choices and keep themselves safe."

Summer start for upgrade of road network

HARLOW'S congested road network is set for a multi-million pound overhaul as work starts on transforming the town into one of the UK's flagship Enterprise Zones.

The £3.5m roads project, which was given the green light by the South East Local Enterprise Partnership (SELEP) on Friday, will see a busy stretch of the A414 along Edinburgh Way upgraded as well as new access routes provided into the London Road and Templefields industrial areas.

The project will be overseen by the consortium of public and private sector organisations behind the EZ bid – including Harlow Council, Essex County Council and the West Essex Alliance – using funds provided by the LEP via the Government's Growing Places Fund.

The group hopes the improved transport links will encourage firms from the medical technology, advaneed manufacturing and ICT industries to relocate to Harlow while reducing through traffic on town centre and residential roads.

Work is set to start this summer and should be complete within a year.

Harlow Council chief executive Malcolm Morley told the Star: "The Enterprise Zone is the key to supporting the creation of up to 5,000 new jobs. A multi-million pound upgrade to the roads in and around it illustrates just how serious the council and its partners are about supporting business.

"This is great news for the Enterprise Zone and the council is delighted that SELEP has recognised the strength of the bid for this investment.

"Harlow is already a great location for business being close to the motorway network and with a fast rail connection to London and easy access to Stansted airport.

"Additional investment in the transport infrastructure builds on this and the council will continue to lobby hard for further investment."

The scheme is one of 12 business-boosting projects in the South East to successfully bid for a slice of SELEP's £40m funding package.

Group chairman John Spence said priority had been given to applications that demonstrated viable means of optimising growth and prosperity in their respective areas.

"The positive impact of these schemes will reverberate across UK plc," he said.

"We are committed to developing the most enterprising economy in England and recognise that in targeting the right schemes in the south east we will have a catalytic impact on the future prosperity of the country at large."

Now I know why our hospice is so special

HEATHER Lidgey has taken part in all four St Clare Hospice's Midnight Walks – but it wasn't until last year that she realised just how important the annual fundraiser has become.

"My dad, Brian Cronin, was admitted to Princess Alexandra Hospital at the end of July with suspected pneumonia," she said. "He was diagnosed with lung cancer in mid-August."

"It was so aggressive they couldn't do anything for him except make his last few days as comfortable as possible."

"He was transferred to St Clare Hospice on August 24. I was a bit concerned that the hospice would have the same sort of restrictions the hospital had but visits weren't at a set time which was a great relief as most of his immediate family and close friends have work commitments and travelled great distances to see him."

"The hospice staff were really great, willing to answer any questions that we had. Even the 'difficult' ones were handled truthfully but with great tact."

The day after he was admitted, Brian had all the people he considered his closest family and friends visit him at various times. "He had a whale of a time, joining in the laughter and jokes," said Heather. "The nurses were always on call if we needed them but never obtrusive."

Sadly, the following morning Brian passed away.

"Of course we are all still devastated by his loss but, as they say, life goes on," said Heather. "I now have a true appreciation of the really sterling work St Clare Hospice does and all of the effort given by the truly wonderful staff. It is an exceptionally friendly and welcoming place."

"Although I've participated in every Midnight Walk that St Clare has done in Harlow, I didn't really appreciate how special they actually were until last summer."

This year Heather will be taking part to celebrate her father's life and the many others who have been helped by the staff at St Clare Hospice. And you can join her.

Organisers are hoping that at least 1,350 people will sign up to help raise £90,000, which will be used to fund the care and support services the hospice provides. And if you're quick you can still take advantage of the '£2 for £20'

Hotel will be a great place to do business

THE Manor of Groves Hotel will be the perfect place to do business this summer, according to the organisers of June's Harlow Business Exhibition.

The area's premier business networking event is set to take place at the High Wych hotel for the first time as organisers expand the show to cater for more visitors and exhibitors.

In just 11 weeks' time some 700 people are expected to visit the hotel's sprawling Manor Suite as it plays host to 100 exhibitors from firms across Harlow and the surrounding area.

Business expo co-founder Ian Hudson said the hotel "ticked all the boxes" as an ideal venue.

"We were keen to source a venue in Harlow, but this year the Manor of Groves just seemed right," he said. "They are able to offer a room where footfall will be equal, provide catering and refreshment facilities, more space to hold seminars and one-to-one meetings and a garden area where guests can hopefully enjoy the sunshine and do business."

"Their events team are extremely accommodating and are working closely with event organisers The Sowerby Group and our board members to ensure this year's event is a huge success."

There is still time to secure a stand for your firm at the showcase on June 12. Package prices start from £295+VAT; for more information visit www.sowerbygroup.co.uk or call (01279) 408669.

Schools take up sports challenge

SCHOOLS throughout Harlow limbered up to do their bit for Sport Relief on Friday.

Joining thousands across the country for the nationwide fundraiser, which raises money for worthy projects at home and in the world's poorest countries, the youngsters took part in a range of sports-themed activities throughout the school day.

Pupils at PASSMORES ACADEMY benefited from some professional sporting advice on their fundraising events when Harlow Olympics hopeful Andrew Osagie dropped by to help out.

As well as holding a non-school uniform day, the students organised a raffle, challenged their teachers to a football match and even a got a lesson on all the latest dance moves when staff had a sponsored 'dance off'.

Over at LATTON GREEN PRIMARY, children showed off their stamina when they completed 10 laps of the playground as their parents cheered them on. The school also held a sponsored sports-themed non-uniform day and raised over £350 for the charity

"It was a really successful day and we are thrilled at how much we raised considering we are quite a small school," said spokesperson Mel Culverhouse.

Youngsters at CHURCHGATE STREET PRIMARY kept up the fundraising pace when they each paid £1 to run as many laps as they could manage around the school field.

Headteacher Jonathan Tye said they had all done a fantastic job.

"They were all very keen to do their bit for Sport Relief and I am very proud of them," he said. "I am also very proud of our midday assistants for organising the event."

CARING FOR YOUR PET

NATIONAL Pet Month starts next week (April 4 - May 4 2012) and the theme this year is "Your pets and you – a winning team"

National Pet Month helps create awareness of the benefits of companion animals and the need to look after them responsibly. Of course, responsible pet ownership means good preventive healthcare, grooming and feeding – and it means fun! During National Pet Month pet owners will be encouraged to team up with their pets to get happy and healthy. Thousands of people will be celebrating happy times with their pets at hundreds of events up and down the country. While many of these events will raise funds for local animal charities, National Pet Month is not just about fund raising. It is also all about raising awareness of how pets make people's lives happier and healthier, and how we can repay the pets we love by looking after them responsibly.

Whether you're an old hand at pet ownership or are thinking of getting a new addition to the family, take a look at these top 10 tips:

1. Think carefully before getting a pet and learn about its special requirements.
2. Ensure your pet is sociable and well trained.
3. Provide a nutritious and well balanced diet.
4. Provide suitable housing and bedding.
5. Clean up after your pet and worm it regularly.
6. Protect against disease. Your vet can provide you with advice.

7. Prevent unwanted litters and neuter your pet when appropriate.
8. Groom your pet regularly.
9. Control your pet and ensure it is properly identified.
10. Take out pet insurance for dogs, cats, rabbits and horses to cover against unexpected veterinary fees and third party liability.

Locally we have a wealth of animal experts. Why not browse the wealth of information from top service providers on this page and make sure your pet partnership gets off to the best possible start.

Hard work in the garden will bear fruit

KATHERINES PRIMARY

Green-fingered pupils were given a lesson in working the land when they helped plant trees in their new class garden. They used the money they raised at a Christmas cake sale to buy four trees symbolising the school's four houses – apple, pear, cherry and plum. They then mucked in to help plant the saplings in the garden outside their recently-refurbished classroom, which also has its own greenhouse and vegetable patch.

Class teacher Emily Kerr said: "It was the children's idea to buy the trees using the money they had raised at the Christmas cake sale."

"They wanted to do something to represent each of the school's four houses and decided that planting trees would be a great way to create a lasting legacy that future classes could enjoy too."

A countdown to blast off!

BUSY BEES NURSERY Youngsters had a blast when local education group Science Alive dropped in to help them launch a fleet of home-made rockets.

The children spent the morning preparing their spacecrafts for lift-off before watching in amazement as they were blasted into the sky using a high-powered air pump.

They then spent the rest of their science-themed week learning more about volcanoes, ice-forms and the way plants and trees grow.

Nursery manager Louise Christie said: "Our science week was a huge success; the kids absolutely loved getting involved with the experiments."

"The rocket-building day with Science Alive was brilliant. They were amazed and very proud to see their own creations shoot into the sky and I think we've still got a few on our roof!"

Mum's the special word for nursery tots

BLOSSOMS NURSERY Tots said thank you to their marvellous mums during a special activity morning at the Church Langley pre-school.

The youngsters put their creative skills to the test by making cards and cupcakes before each being given the chance to tell the rest of the group why their mum was special.

Nursery manager Bobbi Chana said: "The children all put a lot of effort into decorating their cards and cupcakes. They really wanted to show their mums just how much they love them.

"The mums came in for the morning and really enjoyed helping their kids with the activities. I think they were really touched to see and hear how much their kids appreciated them."

25 years old

Sadly taken away 29/3/2011

Our Son Seany, We cannot believe it is now a year ago today you were taken away from us. It broke our hearts to lose you, the pain is endless. You were, are, and always will be a special unique young man and Son.

You put up such a brave fight, always smiling and joking but sadly it was a fight you could not win. If one wish could be granted, we would call for you home where you belong. We will never ever forget you. Please wait at the open gates, until we can be together once more.

Our beloved Son
With heartfelt love,
We miss you,

You were so very special, more than words could ever say.

Too precious to be forgotten, too priceless to ever be replaced.

You were one in a million.

And will live on forever in my heart, and in my mind.

I miss the way we used to be.

The times we shared, just you and me. And until that day when we shall meet again. I will cherish always my memories of you.

To my Grandson Seany. My Star.

I love you now & forever. Gran. xx

Even though it's been a year, we can't believe your still not here.

We think of you everyday and make no outward show, but what it means to lose you, no one will ever know. Nothing can be more beautiful than the memories we have of you.

To us you were so special, God must have thought so too.

We miss and love you so much. Rachael, Paul, Carla, Jamie & Lana.

Muggers punch man in face and steal his wallet

DETECTIVES investigating a robbery in Harlow town centre during which the victim was punched in the face have released an efit image of one of the suspects.

The assault took place in Third Avenue, near the Asda store, at 11am last Monday (March 19).

According to police, the 20-year-old victim was approached by two men, struck in the face and had his wallet stolen before his assailants ran off in the direction of the Passmores area.

Detective Constable Tim Hawle, said: "We're confident that several people would have been milling around this area at the time and saw this robbery. They are key witnesses and would urge them to come forward."

"This efit is a composite of the victim's recollection of one of two men so we're hoping it is familiar with someone who knows who it is."

Both assailants are described as black and in their mid-20s.

The man in the efit is described as approximately 5ft 6ins tall and of slim build with short cropped hair. He was wearing a grey-and-black horizontal striped jumper, grey tracksuit bottoms and white trainers.

His accomplice was approximately 6ft 2ins tall, of medium build and had a short beard. He was wearing a green Nike hoodie, blue jeans and black trainers.

The victim did not require any medical treatment.

Anyone with information about the robbery should contact detectives at Harlow police station on 101 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555111.

Time saver for 'appy passengers

A NEW smartphone app that allows rail passengers to purchase tickets and check train times has been launched by train operator Greater Anglia.

The free application – available now on iPhone, Android, Blackberry and Ovi devices – allows customers to buy tickets up to 10 minutes before departure for collection from self-service machines at stations across the network.

Users can also check up-to-date train times and save daily timetables to their phone for easy reference while on the move.

Greater Anglia managing director Ruud Haket said: "Providing better information is a key part of our plans to improve customer service across the Greater Anglia network."

For more information or to download the app, log on to Greater Anglia's website at www.greateranglia.co.uk.

Are you ready to vote?

Notice for voters on the forthcoming elections

On the 3rd May 2012 the local elections will be held for all of the eleven contested wards of Harlow District Council, including a by-election for the Bush Fair ward.

If you have not registered to vote, or wish to register for a postal vote or wish to cancel or change a previously registered postal or proxy vote, you must do so before 5.00pm on Wednesday, 18th April 2012.

If you wish to appoint a proxy to vote on your behalf, you must do so before 5.00pm on Wednesday, 25th April 2012.

As a result of a recent polling station review, changes have been made to two polling stations:

Toddbrook ward - Harlow Playhouse will be used instead of Northbrooks House.

Sumners & Kingsmoor ward - Kingsmoor Christian Centre will be used instead of Milwards School.

Also, due to building works at Tany's Dell School in Mark Hall ward, the Redeemed Christian Church of God will be the polling station for these elections.

Please read your poll card carefully for full details.

Hair we go

A REAL-life Rapunzel is hoping to raise thousands of pounds by auctioning off her lengthy locks.

Natasha Moraes de Andrade, from Rio de Janeiro in Brazil, has grown tired of her long hair and plans to use the money to refurbish her bedroom.

The 12-year-old, who has never been to the hairdresser, has already been offered £1,750 but hopes to make more. She decided to have it cut as it stopped her from playing sports and participating in activities at school.

She has to spend an hour-and-a-half brushing her hair every day and up to four hours a week washing it.

Mum Catarina told reporters: "At the moment she just goes from school to home again. She can't do anything else like sports because her hair gets in the way.

"I've let her keep it this way because she likes having such long hair, but the time has come to get it cut."

Natasha said: "I love my long hair and I'll be sad when it's gone, but it's a pain looking after it. She plans to cut it into a bob before her next school term starts.

Fairytale musical a special Easter treat

By CHRIS MOSS

A HAIR-raising new musical adaptation of classic Brothers Grimm fairytale Rapunzel is set to sweep audiences off their feet at The Playhouse this Easter.

The family-friendly production from Enchanted Entertainment – the company behind last year's record-breaking panto Peter Pan – is an enchanting story of a lonely young girl, a wicked witch and a dashing prince. A dazzling set incorporating Rapunzel's enchanted tower has been specially-built for the show.

Guy Pascall, of Enchanted Entertainment, said this week: "Rehearsals are going very well indeed and working with a West End quality musical theatre cast just adds extra scope to the kind of brilliant show that can be put together in just a few weeks.

"It's going to be full of wonderful new music and characters as well as a few familiar ones such as Gothel the Enchantress and the beautiful Rapunzel, of course."

Theatre manager Scott Ramsay added: "This is a brand new musical created especially for the Playhouse and everyone involved in the project is excited and looking forward to the world premiere here in Harlow.

"It's a great opportunity for families to be able to come along during the school holidays and enjoy something that has never been performed before."

Rapunzel runs from April 3-8. Tickets are available from the Playhouse box office on (01279) 431945 or online at www.playhouseharlow.com.

Ballet classic on Playhouse stage

THE greatest romantic ballet of them all will grace The Playhouse next month when Harlow Ballet Association stages a dazzling new production of Giselle.

The otherworldly tale of a tragic peasant girl whose ghost protects her former lover from a vengeful group of female spirits, the ballet features a beautiful score by Adolphe Adam and will include much of the choreography from the original 1841 production.

The HBA cast is headed by 16-year-old Sophie Hull and 17-year-old Jessica Gudgeon, who share the title role. The leading male role of Prince Albrecht will be danced by Samuel Whittome, while the evil Queen Myrthe will be shared between Emily Bird, Holly Gregory and Lydia Ventre.

Lydia has recently obtained a place to study at the Millennium Performing Arts School in London from September, while the supremely talented Harnish Scott will make a welcome return as guest artiste from the Elmhurst School for Ballet, dancing the virtuoso role of the Peasant Boy in Act One.

They will be supported by a full cast of local children and adults, ranging in age from six to over 60.

The production opens on Thursday, April 12, with performances on the first two nights starting at 7.30pm and those on Saturday, April 14 and Sunday, April 15 beginning at 2.30pm.

Tickets cost £13 (£9 under-16s) and can be purchased from (01279) 431945 or www.playhouseharlow.com.

Legacies of secrets and lies review

My Mother Said I Never Should Moot House Players, Moot Hall

LIKE a patchwork quilt, the lives of four women across four generations of a family are pieced together in My Mother Said I Never Should.

At first the short scenes of the play seem like disjointed fragments. By the end the pieces fit together and the pattern of their lives is seen.

The play, written by Charlotte Keatley and first performed in 1987, looks at all the stages of a woman's life and the actors met the challenge of playing their characters from childhood onwards.

Each woman's happiness and fulfilment is compromised, not just by the times they live in but by the secrets and the lies at the heart of the family.

Margaret, strongly played by Bridget McAlpine, marries and has a daughter, Jackie. Artistic Jackie has a daughter with a married man and when she struggles to cope as a single mother Margaret takes the baby, Rosie, and raises her as her own.

Rosie grows up believing that Jackie is her sister. But as grandmother Doris warns, truth will out, and inevitably Rosie learns the shocking facts of her life.

The innocence of childhood has a sharp edge here. From time to time all the characters become children again, singing, playing, quarrelling and sharing their misunderstandings of the adult world.

They even plot to kill their mothers. These girls are certainly not made of sugar and spice and all things nice.

The play moves back and forth in time, which allows Jennifer Southwell as the elderly Doris to be delightful as the youngest child and radiant at the end as she shows us Doris as a young woman in love and about to marry. Claire Quley is the independent Jackie who doesn't find the courage to tell Rosie the truth until it's too late. Margaret achieves a successful career at the expense of her marriage, but her life and her health are blighted by the secrets she holds.

The bleakness of the play was emphasised by the simplicity of the set

Maybe hope lies with the vibrant Rosie, played by Kerry Rowland, whose life could still soar like the kites she makes.

Pirate adventure is a rollicking good laugh

THE PIRATES! IN AN ADVENTURE WITH SCIENTISTS (3D)
certificate U, 1h28m

FIVE years in the making, Aardman Animations' latest offering showcases the extraordinary craftsmanship and dedication of director Peter Lord and his team.

Their artistry is astonishing and backgrounds are crammed with detail and sly visual gags that warrant a second or even third viewing.

It's the mid 19th Century and Queen Victoria (voiced by Imelda Staunton) has declared war on all pirates who dare to sail around Britain's waters.

The Pirate Captain (Hugh Grant) is the leader of a ragtag group of seadogs but his enthusiasm far exceeds his questionable ability to plunder booty. His ship-shape subordinates include Pirate with Scarf (Martin Freeman), Pirate with Gout (Brendan Gleeson), Albino Pirate (Russell Tovey) and Surprisingly Curvaceous Pirate (Ashley Jensen), whose glaringly obvious gender is concealed behind a false beard.

Consequently, The Pirate Captain and his crew are a laughing stock, derided by rivals such as Black Bellamy (Jeremy Piven), Cutlass Liz (Salma Hayek) and Peg Leg Hastings (Lenny Henry). To prove them wrong, The Pirate Captain sets out to capture a Bank of England treasure ship but inadvertently storms The Beagle and captures a young Charles Darwin (David Tennant) and his primate manservant, Mister Bobo. The scientist leads the pirates on a merry dance that might just end with the beleaguered Captain taking home the coveted Pirate Of The Year prize. But first they must venture to the capital without being spotted by the Queen. The Pirates! In An Adventure With Scientists draws on Aardman's trademark visual style and playful sense of humour while the script is peppered with some wry one-liners.

Grant is a snug fit for the misguided Captain and supporting cast have fun with their slender roles, including Brian Blessed in suitably bombastic form as the Pirate King. The script, adapted by Gideon Defoe from his book, walks the gang plank of belly laughs and gentle emotion although none of the characters threaten to usurp Wallace and his resourceful pooch in our affections. Because for all its dazzling qualities, there's no escaping a nagging feeling that this madcap voyage drops anchor short of the brilliance of Aardman's earlier works.

THE HUNGER GAMES In a post-apocalyptic future, North America lies in ruins. In its place stands the autocratic nation of Panem comprising the wealthy Capitol and 12 surrounding, poorer districts controlled by President Snow (Donald Sutherland). Every year, one boy and one girl are selected by lottery from each district to take part in The Hunger Games, a televised fight to the death. Katniss Everdeen (Jennifer Lawrence) replaces her younger sister Primrose (Willow Shields) as the female representative from District 12, competing alongside baker's son Peeta Mellark (Josh Hutcherson). Their alcohol-sodden mentor Haymitch Abernathy (Woody Harrelson) prepares the youngsters for competition against the other teenagers in a brutal and bloody test of strength and endurance 21 JUMP STREET Morton Schmidt (Jonah Hill) and Greg Jenko (Channing Tatum) enrol at police academy and are ordered to pose as sibling students at the local school where drugs are rife. Morton becomes a popular member of the student body thanks to his brains and sensitivity while lumbering hunk Greg is viewed as an idiot by everyone except his teacher Ms Griggs (Ellie Kemper), who would love to give him some one-on-one tuition. While Morton engages in a tender romance with drama student Molly (Brie Larson), the cops identify fellow student Eric Molson (Dave Franco) as the dealer and work to bring down the drugs ring.

WRATH OF THE TITANS (3D)
certificate 12A, 1h39m

DESPITE some largely negative reviews, Louis Leterrier's 2010 bombastic remake of Clash Of The Titans generated considerable interest at the box office, spawning this inevitable sequel.

Jonathan Liebesman takes over the director's chair, integrating live action and a blitzkrieg of digital effects as demi-god Perseus (Sam Worthington) returns to his fishing village with his young son, hoping to put his monster-slaying days behind him.

Alas, war looms because the humans have relinquished their devotion to the gods including brothers Zeus (Liam Neeson), Hades (Ralph Fiennes) and Poseidon (Danny Huston). Consequently, the imprisoned Titans led by their father Kronos are gaining in strength and threatening to escape from the cavernous prison of Tartarus.

Once again Hades schemes to overthrow Zeus by forging an alliance with Kronos, thereby unleashing hell on Earth. So Perseus answers the call to arms, slaying a new menagerie of terrifying beasts with the help of feisty Andromeda (Rosamund Pike) and Poseidon's demi-god offspring, Agenor (Toby Kebbell).

MIRROR MIRROR
certificate PG, 1h46m

BASED on the classic fairytale Snow White by the Brothers Grimm, Mirror Mirror puts a broad comedic spin on the familiar story.

Queen Clementianna (Julia Roberts) has her sights set on the throne and hunky Prince Andrew Alcott (Armie Hammer), but she cannot take the risk that Snow White (Lily Collins) will steal her thunder. So with the help of her bumbling manservant Brighton (Nathan Lane), the scheming monarch banishes Snow White to the forest, where she expects the pretty orphan to be easy pickings for carnivorous monsters.

Thankfully, Snow White is rescued from certain death by seven plucky dwarves, who teach the young woman to fend for herself in a cruel and unforgiving world.

Armed with her new skills, Snow White returns to the court to reclaim the throne, banish Clementianna and win the heart of the dashing prince.

STREETDANCE 2
certificate PG, 1h25m

TALENTED street dancer Ash (Falk Hentschel) seizes his one shot at glory during a high-profile competition but falls flat on his face in front of a booring crowd and reigning champions Invincible.

Dusting himself down, he meets wise-cracking Eddie (George Sampson), who suggests they join forces to create a crew from around the world with the potential to dethrone Invincible.

And so the young men criss-cross Europe, seeking out the most imaginative, daring and supple performers to fill the ranks of their ramshackle squad.

Arriving in sun-dappled Paris, they meet bar owner Manu (Tom Conti) and his sexy niece Eva (Sofia Boutella). But first, Ash must learn to dance as part of a crew rather than by himself, which can only be accomplished through music video-style montages and some intense one-on-one with Eva.

Your stars with Patrick Arundell
to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
The Sun in your sign forges a sharp right angle to power planet Pluto.
This could see some conflict emerge in your situation, and with Mercury rewinding into your sector of secrets, just who this emerges from could come as something of a surprise. If you feel unsure at any point, the worst you can do is be defensively forceful. Call me for your in-depth forecast...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
Staying concentrated at work is essential.
Any bumps in the road professionally may prove hard to shrug off and if you start taking things home with you, causing tensions there. It may be that you find someone you work with is unpredictable. This is the best way to counter this is to avoid giving them anything to criticize or find fault with. Call for more news and advice...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
You started this month on something of a mission, peaking around the 14th. But life is far from a perfect process, and you may find yourself
having second thoughts about some things. At the root of this may be deep rooted insecurities about letting go of what's safe and familiar. This is understandable, but try to push through these.
Call for more astral advice...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
It's said that Scorpio's can be one of the most intense members of the zodiac and even when you are laughing or joking you can be full on. Do you feel this reflects how you are? If so, it is going to be important to create some healthy or entertaining diversions this week, because the planets conspire to create some extra tension.
Call your prediction line
for more news...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
One friend may have a tendency of deciding what's best for you. If so, you may find yourself wanting to break away from their control or at least spend time with others. Then again, a change of direction you fancy, may have financial implications. If so, the chances are whichever way you go, can have pitfalls.
Try not to be too impetuous.
Call for more news...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
If you've been thinking about making some changes to where you live, or even moving altogether, you might change your mind or external events can interrupt the flow of proceedings.
Family members may also have a point of view which you find unhelpful. Yet you can also finally sort out a domestic issue that has blighted things.
Call me for more...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
Work hard to clear up any loose ends relating to holiday bookings, contracts and correspondence. Don't assume things have been done, personally double check that they actually have. In a close relationship, there may be a shift of dynamics. This can see one of you subtly try to assert more influence over the other person.
Call for your love scope...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
The New Moon
continues to radiate energy into your situation, and asks you to revisit all the basics in your situation.
Anything linked to physical or emotional security is a point in case. Yet around one matter, it can seem as if you will be a loser, whichever path you take.
You can lessen this if you don't seek anyone's approval. Call now for your in-depth forecast...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
Balancing a need to do your own thing with the expectations of others, could prove tricky.
You can be a very giving and generous person, but now always pitching in to help out could start to grate on you - especially if your desire to have more independence gets compromised in any way. A financial situation also needs monitoring. Call for your financial forecast...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
You can have an outspoken side, yet it could be someone else who surprises you with their viewpoint this week. Yet if this happens, try to react calmly. The chances are that at some juncture there may have been some miscommunication between you. If you want to, you can resolve this, but either way you can learn from it.
Call me for more news
and astral advice...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
As I am fond of saying, 50% of communication is the ability to hear what people really mean when they speak to us. If something seems tangled between you and someone special, run what's been discussed through your mind again. Take the time to be a bit more detached about the issues, if you do, you may see things differently. Call for more news and advice...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
Stay fleet-footed and nimble around all plans and projects as if you do, you have a higher than usual chance to capitalize Pisces. It's also possible you will reach a crossroads.
One way may be safe and familiar, the other fresh and new, but to capture the prize, you may feel more vulnerable. However, if you do, you may never look back.

THIS week's main feature property in Chaseways, Sawbridgeworth, is a four-bedroom house which has been maintained to a very high standard, with recent redecoration and attention to detail.

The inner hallway has tiled flooring and leads through to the dining room/reception hall. This has solid wood flooring and windows to the side and front aspects.

Next to this is a stylish shower room with a power shower and chrome radiator.

There is an exceptionally large lounge which has been freshly decorated and has windows to both aspects, with patio doors leading out to a conservatory. There is also a newly fitted feature gas fire with limestone surround.

The conservatory has tiled flooring, windows to all aspects and doors leading out to the rear garden.

The kitchen features a range of wall and base units, a new roll top work surface, sink unit with mixer tap, integrated oven, four-ring hob with extractor and an integrated dishwasher.

Leading off the kitchen is a utility room with a recess for a fridge/freezer and space and plumbing for a washing machine and tumble drier.

Upstairs are the four bedrooms – one with en suite facilities – and the family bathroom.

The sheltered, south-facing garden features a patio area and lawn, with attractive shrub and flower borders. There is also a front garden, garage and driveway.

Call Mackay Property Agents on (01279) 600567 for further details.

The Benefit of Independence

Location, location, location may be the cornerstone of wise property investment, yet many people are unaware of the importance of location in making the right choice of estate agent whether buying or selling.

Estate agency is an intensely local business. It is essential that agents are fully conversant with the issues of the day relating to the buying and selling of property within what is often no more than a mile or two from their office. Preferably they should themselves be resident in the area in which they are selling.

At Geoffrey Matthew Estates we are more conscious than most of the overriding importance of providing a local service, delivered passionately by local people. Perhaps this is one of the reasons why we enjoy such a good atmosphere in our offices. Most of our staff, including our Director s live in Harlow, and most of them have been with us for many years.

This combination of experience and local expertise delivers an unsurpassed and intense market knowledge of the immediate local area, meaning that property buyers and sellers can expect to receive the most relevant and up to date comment and opinion when it comes to property valuation, market intelligence and strategic marketing advice.

In our experience, too many estate agencies simply have token representation in the area, with a mobile workforce managed by remote directors concentrating on building an empire, rather than earning the loyalty and respect of local people over the years.

We believe that close customer contact, regular communication and straight-talking expert advice is what the public deserves. This can only be delivered via a wholeheartedly independent and thoroughly local estate agency with its clients' best interests at heart. As a buyer or seller you have a choice of agency, so choose wisely! Choose GEOFFREY MATTHEW ESTATES.

All adults who agree 'I am starting to tighten my belt' across 8 retail sectors.

Commercial Property Feature

Comprehensive mix of businesses

THE commercial property sector in the south-east has had a tough few years now since the economic downturn, particularly in the retail sector, with many units on high streets struggling to find good tenants.

The commercial office and business market has been quite volatile since early 2011 when early indications in quarter one looked positive. However, by October the trend had reversed again and the pace of vacancies increased.

The south-east followed the national trends in both the development of new commercial properties and the rental demand and occupancy of available units. By the end of 2011 supply had started to outstrip demand and the promising upward trend of demand experienced earlier in the year has all but petered out.

Resilience to these trends is possible and landlords need to think and operate creatively. David Jupp, managing director of French & Jupps, said: "At the Maltings Business Centre in Stanstead Abbots we have retained a very high occupancy rate throughout the 2008-2011 period.

"As we cater for small to medium-sized businesses, our occupancy policy is very attractive to business people who do not want long-term rental agreements or to be rigidly fixed in a unit that is inappropriate for their needs, their budget or, crucially, their cashflow.

"We require monthly tenancy agreements and allow business people to sign up without any significant commitment to tenancy terms. We have actually experienced a growing demand for our units in recent months and we are moving to an occupancy rate in excess of 90 per cent. There is the risk of relatively high turnover, but the fact remains our units are occupied and for a landlord, occupancy is really the only things that matters. The colour of everyone's money is still the same.

"What is particularly pleasing is that, even in this tough climate, our tenants are staying put and the churn rate has been very low during 2011. We have even managed to invest in improving our facilities and we have a programme of development planned for much of the coming year, with some projects running well into five-figure sums.

"Many landlords are reluctant to offer the flexibility of short-term tenancies and seem to favour holding out for better times. We don't see the logic of maintaining large areas of empty floor space for months or even years at a time in the fervent hope that some business may eventually sign up on onerous terms.

Our policy also has a positive psychological benefit. There's a buzz of optimism and activity at The Maltings. There are plenty of people about and there is a great sense of community, leading to co-operation and collaboration between tenants. We encourage a comprehensive mix of business activities and many of our tenants do business with each other as a result. Within a two-minute walk of your office you can find locksmiths, accountants, lawyers, recruitment agents, marketing consultants, caterers, printers, electricians, retailers of a wide range of products, hairdressers, beauticians, veterinarians and even a tattoo artist!

"I would go as far as saying that this community spirit has been a major factor in attracting and retaining tenants. People like being here because of it – and that's good for anyone's business."

Premises at a competitive price

DURING 2011 and the early part of 2012 market conditions have been tough, but Harlow Business Centre has been extremely pleased with the number of new, expanding and relocating companies that continually choose the centre as the base to nurture their business and benefit from the outstanding value-for-money available within a growing business community.

Centre manager Gaynor Perkins said: "We are extremely proud of our clients' accomplishments and the fact the centre has remained virtually full during recent years and the recession. It is good to see that companies are progressing positively despite the economy and negative predictions of late."

One such client of Harlow Business Centre is Objects In Glass Limited, a new company with a totally fresh concept in the manufacture of decorative glass panels. During their highly successful company launch at the September 2011 100% Design Exhibition in London they were one of only two exhibitors chosen to be filmed for the Discovery Channel's Innovative Products feature to be televised this spring.

This is the type of company that has confidence in growth through manufacturing and they have been so successful that they are currently in the process of moving to a bigger unit on site. To top it off, fellow Harlow Business Centre client Federation of Small Businesses representative Peter Andrews from Go Express Couriers chose Objects in Glass as a perfect example of a progressive local small business and it will be featured in the BBC Look East regional news programme in the near future.

Harlow Business Centre provides business accommodation ranging from 240-2,000 sq.ft. and takes responsibility for the maintenance and insurance of the premises. Refuse is collected and clients have 24/7 access to their units. The centre also has night security patrols, 24/7 CCTV and free designated and visitor parking. The on-site management are happy to oversee deliveries, will provide admin support and offer flexible licence agreements to take the risk factor out of making that move.

If you are looking for affordable business premises at a competitive price within a friendly, professional and secure centre, please call our manager on (01279) 429644 who would welcome the opportunity of showing you around.

Commercial Property Feature

All the benefits of a family-run business centre

WHEN starting a business, working from home can seem like the best option. However, many find that they outgrow the home-office advantage.

Inevitably, having the children at your feet can begin to lose its appeal as family needs and wants impinge on business time and impact professional meetings.

Allen House Business Centre in Sawbridgeworth understands this dilemma. As a family-run centre for small businesses, we provide the answer – a local, professional environment which will improve your mindset, recover your work/life balance and give your business an enhanced appearance to clients which in turn encourages growth and success, as proved by many of our tenants.

An office with easy access to the M11 and mainline railway is only one advantage to moving your company out of home. Other benefits include meeting rooms available for hire, conference facilities and packages and a central reception point for visitors.

All tenants at Allen House Business Centre benefit from month-in month-out terms, free car parking within our 200-space car park, excellent professional support and free marketing opportunities at the Allen House Business Network, where you can meet like-minded associates and expand your portfolio.

All this cannot fail to motivate and appeal, especially as an affordable way of working normal hours without constant interruption. We have even accommodated office sharing between friends as a smart choice to help with costs.

With offices starting at just £295 per month (all inclusive), the tranquil Grade II listed premises are just the place for you to thrive and improve your company's performance.

Why not visit the Allen House Business Centre to get an insight? Register by email: info@allenhousebusinesscentre.co.uk for the next free business network meeting on June 22 from 12.30-2.30pm or take a look at our website www.allenhousebusinesscentre.co.uk or Facebook page Allen House Business Centre. A Golf GTI for the modern era

By Matt Kimberley

THE Golf GTI was the hot hatch that started it all back in 1976, combining your common-or-garden hatchback with a powerful engine and an uprated chassis.

More than three decades later the GTI Edition 35 is based on the same ethos but represents something a little more upmarket.

It was actually released in 2011 to mark the 35th anniversary of the GTI's first steps into a world it was about to change forever. It, and others like it that came along years later, gave keen drivers all the fun of a sports car but with much more practicality and everyday usability. The key to the best hot hatchbacks is that they do everything you could ever want them to do, whether it's taking home a flat-packed chest of drawers, dropping the kids off at school or enjoying a solo blast out into the countryside. Some are more biased towards practicality and others towards fun, but there's always a mix of talents.

The Edition 35 is one of the most middle-of-the-road hot hatches in that it tries not to sacrifice any one area for the sake of another. You get a good size boot, plenty of room for four adults or a young family of five, a sensible interior and good looks.

ENGINE 2.0-litre turbocharged four-cylinder producing 232bhp
TRANSMISSION 6-speed manual gearbox driving the front wheels
PERFORMANCE Maximum speed 153mph, 0-62mph in 6.6s
ECONOMY 34.9mpg
CO₂ RATING 189g/km

Oh, and 232bhp.

It's no ordinary Golf GTI. It does away with the ordinary 207bhp GTI engine and replaces it with a detuned version of the really rather rapid Golf R's turbocharged four-cylinder. Fettled to give a perfectly flat 221lb.ft torque from 2,200rpm to 5,500rpm, the engine is smooth, tractable and very easy to get the most out of.

It's a very relaxed engine in the main, with a close-ratio six-speed manual gearbox sending power to the front wheels. Smooth right from idle, it's perfectly happy to trundle along at 1,200rpm in any gear. In fact, the change-up indicator encourages it on a light throttle.

On the motorway, sixth gear isn't as tall as you might expect and although the relatively high revs make you wish for another gear there's very usable torque on tap for overtaking without shifting down.

Turbo lag is usually noticeable; acceleration comes first from the instant response of the 2.0-litre engine and then, after a heartbeat, the full might of the forced induction.

The Golf isn't a small car any more and on some B-roads it feels a little unwieldy, as though it could use more feel and communication through the steering and chassis. It's very good to drive on sweeping A-roads, with the metallic zing and bass drone of the engine a fitting aural backdrop, but it's not as overtly chuckable as some people might want.

One other thing to watch is that occasionally, in wet weather and when the brakes haven't been used for a while, they can lack initial bite, the first time they're reapplied – something that can catch out the unwary.

The interior is a mix of hard, textured plastics and soft-touch finishes, accentuated by beautiful red stitching. It's perfectly fine; sensible and stylishly practical offering the sort of environment you'd be happy to live with for a long time.

It's a relatively odd spec list, though. Full leather upholstery is standard, along with dual zone climate control, brilliant bi-xenon headlights, privacy glass behind the B-pillar and several advanced electronic safety systems. But you don't get sat-nav, cruise control or parking sensors as standard, all things you'll find on much cheaper cars.

This car had the optional £1,770 sat-nav and media system combination, which works very well. It's clear and easy to use as long as you take note of the traditional menu buttons around the outer edge of the touch screen.

It also had winter tyres fitted which, being narrower, taller and softer than normal summer tyres, didn't do the handling any favours. There's noticeable flex which introduces an imprecision that's otherwise absent in the standard summer tyres.

In its unwritten mission statement, the Golf GTI is meant to be the hot hatch with the least compromises, and aside from the shortcomings in the kit list that's true. I can't think of any rivals that have as broad a spectrum of talents as this, even if some are better in one or two areas. The Edition 35 is a very good car. It improves on the standard GTI in terms of pace and exclusivity, two key selling points for VW's customers.

It's expensive, yes, but it's also a very satisfying all-rounder and its arguably perfect for more people than any other hot hatch.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

For items under £250 in the Herts & Lea Valley Star, Harlow Star, Mercury Series and the Observer Series

To advertise your articles for sale for the price of just a phone call or text, just follow these two simple steps...

1 Before calling us, write down all that you want your advertisement to say. There is a minimum of 12 words per advert, but you can have as many classified adverts as you need. Remember, strictly one item per phone call and the item must be priced at £250 or less. Any items received that do not carry a price will not be published.

2 Now call us on 0905 624 2025
LINES OPEN 24 HOURS PER DAY SEVEN DAYS PER WEEK.
This service lasts approximately two minutes, plus the length of your message. Calls charged at £1.02 per minute plus network extras; calls from mobile will cost considerably more. Service provided J-Media (UK) Ltd.

or text 87070

Start your text with HEN then your advert to a maximum of 20 words. You do not need to add your phone number unless it is different to the mobile used to text the advert.
Example: HEN (space) G. Plan two piece suite, two seater sofa and armchair, super condition £99.
Charged at £1.50 per text plus normal network charges.
Only one item per text.

If you have any queries relating to advertisements placed via this service please call our helpline...

Play-off tension grows

Brentwood lacked a cutting edge, but Harlow were glad to hear the final whistle with the scoreline so tight.

Chapman said: "Luke Marshall showed good awareness for our goal. Some players would have just tried to shoot, but he picked out Getro really well. "It would not have been an injustice if we had won 2-0 or 3-0. If Jeff [Hammond] had shown more composure and taken that chance I think we could have gone on to win 4-0."

He added: "The defence did well and Danny Brown was excellent for us. Him and Ryan Kirby have been there and done it."

HARLOW TN: Bossu 6, Taylor 6, Deane 5, Kirby 7, Brown 8, Kilapi 7, Marshall 6, Maxwell 6, Brayley 4 (Wixon 66 5), Hammond 5, Cowley 5. Subs not used: Wheeler, Day, Haverson. Bookings: Maxwell, Kirby, Moore (fouls). Att: 191.

RUNNING: Steve Murtagh broke his half marathon personal best (PB) time at Brentwood.

He clocked 1 hour, 15 minutes and 22 seconds and was a superb 7th overall out of 2,000 finishers and second veteran 45. He improved his own Harlow Running Club Vet 45 record by more than two minutes. At the Orion 15 Mile race run over a very hilly and challenging course through Epping Forest, Harlow's Sean Flynn finished in 161st out of 322 finishers in a superb PB for the distance of 2:06.46.

He was followed home by Alan Cootes 177th (2:08.39) and Graham Pugh 222nd (2:17.34).

At the Hastings half marathon, Peter Ayling - in his debut at the distance - finished in 990th position out of 3,600 finishers in 1:48.02.

He was followed home by Janice Page (1,315th in 1:53.01) and husband David (1,453rd, 1:54.39).

At the Sandy 10 Mile race in Bedfordshire, Jamie Luck was 157th out of 476 finishers in 1:13.38.

Meanwhile, Vicky Steadman completed a 5km race at Club La Santa in Lanzarote in a PB for the distance of 21.42 and then ran a half marathon in a creditable 1:44.26.

DARTS: After losing their winning run last week, ServoLink won 6-2 at title challengers White Admiral in the Harlow & District Premier Darts League.

Damian Green's two 180s for Servo took his season's tally to eight.

TG Whites beat Buccaneers 6-2 with help from a 118 outshot from Steve Salter and a 143 outshot from Mick Rout.

Adam Wade (Buccaneers) hit a 130 outshot.

Sawbridgeworth Brewery beat Stow Snooker 5-3 after a 104 outshot from 13-year-old Reece Barnett.

Golden Swift drew 4-4 with Moot House Raiders. Billy Woods enjoyed a 118 finish for Swift.

Other results: Colt Hatch Social 1, Staple Tye Colts 7; Moot House 5 Tye 6n Foxes 3.

HARLOW GREYHOUND SELECTIONS (30-3-12): 7.30pm Shamone Sherman; 7.47pm Chadwell Cool; 8.04pm Tain Cu; 8.21pm Debs Night; 8.38pm Droopys Lucas (NAP); 8.54pm Buglys Elsa; 9.10pm Elishas Baby; 9.26pm Swift Maeve (NB); 9.42pm Creamery Dream; 9.58pm Tain Maeve; 10.15pm Dods Blue Eyes.

Ladies fight back in ugly match

HARLOW retrieved a two-goal deficit to draw 2-2 in a bad-tempered Essex Women's Hockey League, premier division game at Chelmsford.

The visitors were trailing 2-1 early in the second half when Sue Douglas was yellow carded for not retreating at a set-piece situation.

Gill Phipps then scored an equaliser for Harlow on 55 minutes when she followed up on a rebound.

Harlow's Anita Shearman was then given a yellow card which was then upgraded to a red card for dissent.

Later on, a home player was given a green card warning for dissent.

Earlier, Chelmsford went ahead on 13 minutes through an excellent reverse stick shot.

Their lead was doubled on 20 minutes after the Harlow keeper Linda Rowley failed with an attempted clearance.

Harlow halved the deficit just before the break when Charlotte Byers shot home after good work from Carolyn Welsford and Anna Ferdinando.

Phipps then secured a point.

Harlow are third in the table with one game remaining. This is at home to already-relegated Upminster II this weekend.

HARLOW: Rowley, Shearman, Trimble, Stanesby, Douglas, Welsford, Ferdinando, Byers, Amos, Attack, Phipps.

Title-chasers edge it

HARLOW suffered a 3-2 loss against promotion-chasing Havering in their penultimate match in division four south east of the East Men's Hockey League.

After conceding an early goal, Harlow fought back and James Smith - who takes over as captain

Harlow Town bowled over by £50K grant

AS Harlow Town Cricket Club gets ready for its first ever season in the Shepherd Neame Essex League, it has been bowled over by £50,000 of Olympic legacy funding from Sport England's Inspired Facilities Fund.

The Inspired Facilities Fund is part of the £135 million Places People Play legacy programme that is bringing the magic of a home Olympic and Paralympic Games into communities across the country.

Every sports facility that receives funding will carry the London 2012 Inspire mark - celebrating the link to the Games.

The project is upgrading the pavilion to install new showers and toilets at the Elizabeth Way club.

The changing rooms will be reconfigured to make them unisex and disabled compliant, and there will be a replacement kitchen and a suspended ceiling.

These improvements will make a huge difference to the enjoyment of the club pavilion.

Club secretary Paul Morrell, said: "We are delighted to secure one of the first inspired facilities grants, which will enable us to bring the facilities offered in line with the modern sporting requirements, that otherwise as a voluntary organisation we are simply unable to do without the significant financial support that Sport England provide."

Sport England's chairman, Richard

CASH BOOST:

From left, Graham Smith (Essex County Cricket Board), Paul Morrell (secretary, Harlow Town CC), Dave Calver (facilities manager, Harlow Town CC), Steve Gleeson (welfare officer, Harlow Town CC), Harlow Cllr Tony Hall (portfolio holder for the environment) and Ed Sandham (Sport England) (s)

Lewis, said: "This investment will create a fantastic sporting legacy for Harlow. This fund has really hit the mark with sports clubs in Essex. It shows we're offering the legacy that people want for their local community. For hundreds of clubs and tens of thousands of people, 2012 will be the year their local sports facilities got better."

Harlow MP, Robert Halfon, said: "I'm delighted that Sport England are supporting Harlow Town Cricket Club with this donation - especially with the Olympics just around the corner.

"The greatest sporting event in the world is happening just down the road from Harlow. With the leisurezone and other new facilities, we are rapidly becoming a sporting town."

The project is one of 350 local community sports groups who have been offered a total of £17.4 million in Olympic legacy funding through the Inspired Facilities Fund.

Duo's World Cup call-ups

His world ranking is 6th over 200m, 9th in the 100m and 16th over 400m.

Chiassaro told the Star: "I'm really looking forward to it [the BT Paralympics World Cup].

"It means a lot to me. I feel I am getting faster and stronger. It [selection for the World Cup] was based on my training and how I did in events in July and August."

He added: "I was really pleased with how I did in Dubai and to get three PBs was very good.

"I was really pleased with how I did in the 100m as there was a very strong headwind. I was very nervous before the races."

Strike (42) will be competing in the T53/54 100m and 800m in Manchester. "I'm really excited to be picked for such a big event. I feel strong and I am optimistic," she said.

"I'm really pleased Richard is going too and it's good to have two athletes from Harlow going."

She added: "This is my fourth World Cup and I won a bronze [in the 400m] in 2007."

Peter Eriksson, Great Britain and Northern Ireland Team Leader, believes medals are very much on the agenda. He said: "Everyone has been working hard over the winter to be in the best possible shape moving into this Paralympic Games year and we're all excited about getting out there to compete.

"The BT Paralympic World Cup is an important competition in our schedule, because in addition to giving an opportunity to our more experienced athletes to lay down some markers against top quality opposition, it's a great chance for some of our developing athletes to experience world class international competition as they look further down the line to Rio 2016."

The Manchester Regional Arena will host all events, starting with the athletics on May 22.

Water ban hits cricket clubs

CRICKET chiefs are growing concerned at the 'devastating' effect of a hosepipe ban with the season just weeks away.

Veolia, which supplies homes throughout Harlow, has warned sports clubs that a ban will be introduced from April 5.

The problem has been exacerbated by one of the driest winters on record.

It comes as cricket clubs across the region carry out final preparations for their squares.

Paul Waters, Herts & Essex Cricket League (HECL) chairman, is demanding dialogue with Veolia and fears scores of matches will be cancelled because of the health and safety risks of playing on dry as a bone pitches.

"We are unique as a sport. Surface preparation is key to safety. Without water the surfaces are dangerous," he said.

With more than 2,500 youngsters playing the sport at HECL clubs, Waters fears they could be driven out of the game if there are no matches. "This could put clubs back years and years and years. The game has to be safe, but we need that water," said Waters.

"We want to work with them [Veolia]. They have an opportunity to engage with us so we can work with them for the future of water management.

"An outright ban will have impact hugely. We do understand the gravity of the situation."

The situation could also effect the teams in the Shepherd Neame Essex League, including Harlow and Harlow Town.

Paul Baxter, the Colts manager at Harlow CC and a club committee member, said: "A hosepipe ban would not affect us immediately. It would not stop us having friendly games in April because there is moisture underneath, but if the hot weather continues we will need to water the square and get dispensation [from the water company] to be allowed to do so in the evenings.

"We are still waiting for advice from the Essex Cricket Board on what to do."

Cricket clubs have been urged to write to the Veolia company secretary to call for leniency on health and safety grounds.

His details are: Mr Tim Monod, Veolia Water Central, Tamblin Way, Hatfield, AL10 9EZ.

Rosie blooms for Essex

ROSIE Poole put in an excellent performance when she came fifth for Essex in an U-14 girls race at the South East of England Inter Counties Cross Country Championships.

The 12-year-old Stewards School pupil clocked 11 minutes, 22 seconds.

Her race was just under 3km at Bexhill in Surrey on Saturday.

In the same race, Mark Hall pupil Jodi Ratcliff (13) came 23rd (12:15).

Meanwhile, Rosie's cousin William Jansen (12) ran a fine race to come 32nd from a field of just under 100 in the boys U-13 race (just under 3km).

The Passmores School pupil clocked 11:20.

St Mark's pupil and Harlow Athletic Club member Naomi Haryman set a new personal best time of 9.9 secs when she won an U-15 girls 60m hurdles event at the Lee Valley Athletics Centre in Edmonton.

Win for Rams

A STRONG all-round display gave Harlow Ladies a 22-5 home win over Tabard in the RFU Women's National Challenge South East North One.

The Rams went ahead when prop Tina Baldwin crashed over for a try converted by Amy Spearpoint.

Claire Lacey then added a second try to put the Rams 12-0 up at the break.

Kelly Cotterill and Tracey Lee scored second-half unconverted tries for Harlow before Tabard scored a consolation five-pointer before the end.

Harlow round off their league campaign at home to Old Albanian II this Sunday.

Hawks need last-game victory to seal play-off place

HARLOW Hawks must win their last league game against Genting Raiders at home tomorrow (Friday) to ensure a play-off spot in division one.

Hawks kept themselves in play-off contention with a narrow win at Stevenage Scorpions.

Harlow must finish in the top eight to qualify for the end-of-season play-offs.

If the Hawks beat Genting they will finish seventh.

Both Stevenage and Harlow struggled to convert chances at

Stevenage Scorpions 63, Harlow Hawks 69

Herts Basketball League, div one the start of Tuesday's match, but the Hawks finished strongly with a 10-1 run in the final two minutes of the first quarter to put them 18-10 ahead.

Hawks player-coach Shab Niaz, Lee Jones and Ayo Oyerinde kept the scoreboard ticking over.

Niaz bagged another three-pointer at the start of the second period, while Adam Ball added six quick points.

However, Stevenage fought back hard.

They increased the pace and converted a number of fast break plays to close the Hawks lead.

The visitors led 32-29 at the halfway stage.

The Scorpions then exploited poor defence and a lack of communication to score seven unanswered points and go ahead.

However, back-to-back three pointers from Niaz and Dave Spashett, plus four points from the hard-working Jones saw the sides level at 46-46 as they went into the final quarter.

This was tense and saw Niaz grab four three pointers to give the Hawks a slender one-point lead with just 27 seconds remaining.

Oyerinde then scored from both shots on the free throw line to put the visitors three points ahead.

Stevenage fought back again with a three pointer, but Niaz scored twice more.

Hawks went on to win by six points to keep their season alive. HARLOW HAWKS: Niaz (29pts), Ball (12), Jones (8), Oyerinde (8), Jackson (7), Spashett (3), Moss (2), Burgess, Norkeliunas.

● HARLOW Hawks lost 76-64 at home to Ware Jokers in division one last Friday.

Adam Ball (22 points) top scored for the hosts, who were in the game until the last quarter when Ware accelerated ahead.

'Turn up and play' a pitch perfect remedy

FLEXIBLE 'turn up and play' kick about football sessions are being created at Passmores Academy's 3G pitch thanks to a new partnership between the Harlow & District Sunday Football League (HDFL) and the Essex County FA.

The two organisations have joined forces to launch a brand new Mars 'Just Play Centre' for men aged 16 and over at the Traces Road venue.

It is the first time an adult men's league in the UK has got involved in setting up such an initiative, ultimately aimed at sparking more interest in players and teams to join the Sunday League.

Newcomers can play in an informal and friendly environment before or after work or former players can get their boots back on in a non-pressurised setting.

The sessions take place on Monday evenings from 8pm-10pm.

Equipment is provided, there's no upper age limit and the qualified FA staff who organise the sessions are able to flag-up the options available to link into local clubs, depending on needs or requirements.

Further opportunities to join local clubs and teams are available, but only if desired.

Nick Emery, Football Development Officer at the Essex County FA, sees the sessions as a way for young men to get back into football. He said: "Following the success of our first Just Play Centre in Thurrock we're now working towards setting more up. This will be the fourth to be established in the county, and the first in the country to be run by an adult league."

PITCH PERFECT: Harlow College footballers turn out at the state-of-the-art 3G artificial football pitches at Passmores Academy (HAR0811774)

For participants who wish to take their football further, the HDFL is aiming to find players and teams for new under-21 and veteran division it is proposing for the 2012-13 season.

Emery added: "The League approached our governance team to seek advice on establishing these divisions so I met them to discuss how we could offer our support. One of the results was for us to work together in setting up a Just Play Centre to create interest."

The partnership between Mars and the FA aims to arrest the decline in football participation by getting 150,000 new players enjoying football for at least 30 minutes a week by September 2013, delivering 3.9 million hours of extra football each year.

Why not just turn-up and play?

The sessions cost just £2 each.

Youth team seals league title with unbeaten record

AN under-11 team from Harlow Hawks Basketball Club secured the title after a brilliant unbeaten campaign in the Junior Central Venue League (JCVL).

Hosted in Harlow, this was the fifth year of the JCVL, which is specifically for young basketball players.

Running from November to March, there were five competitions in the age groups U-11, U-14 and U-17.

Hawks had two teams playing in the U-11 age group but it was Hawks White who dominated, securing the title as they pushed the previous season's winners Stevenage Scorpions into the runner-up spot.

In the U-17 age group, Hawks were runners-up after a closely-fought battle against Stevenage Scorpions.

The winners were Ipswich

Tomcats who went undefeated with some very impressive displays and completely overwhelmed Hawks and Scorpions.

In the U-14s, the Hawks Black team went undefeated in this competition, which almost did not take place due to a very late withdrawal by one of the clubs (North Herts Knights) which has supported the JCVL since its move to Harlow by having teams in each age group.

But some last hour adjustments and finalising of schedules allowed for the JCVL to go ahead. "The JCVL has become a very important part of the Hawks junior development programme, with a number of players having gone onto play at junior National League level at various times," explained club head coach Shab Niaz.

"The most successful of whom has been Joshua Steel who started with the club in the U-11 age group and has gone on to represent England and is part of the U-16 selection squad."

Despite the initial struggle at the start of the season regarding whether the JCVL was going to go ahead or not, Niaz is very optimistic that there may be a few new entries into a couple of the age groups for next season.

He added: "The focus of the JCVL has always been that all players get a chance of being involved in each game for a set amount of playing time, which has usually led to a smile on the face of most players, especially noticeable on the faces of those that play in the U-11 age group."

Hawks grind out key win as play-off tension grows

Harlow Tn 1, Brentwood Tn 0
Ryman division one north

THE Hawks secured back-to-back wins over play-off rivals, but Danny Chapman's men will need to find more of a cutting edge if they are to beat second-placed Enfield Town away this coming weekend, writes DAVID RIMMER.

In winning on Saturday, a committed Harlow Town side virtually ending Brentwood Town's play-off hopes, but the hosts should have won more comfortably.

They should have scored three more goals and were indebted to smart play from a new-look central defensive partnership of Ryan Kirby and Danny Brown, who thwarted the visitors' attacks with timely interceptions and good positioning. Brown was making his first start since suffering a rib injury on March 3.

Brentwood – who had Emmanuel Osei up front after he quit the Hawks just a fortnight ago – started brightly and Hawks keeper Bertrand Bossu kept out a fierce 15th-minute shot from Dan Ailey. At the other end, Lee Marshall teed up Jeff Hammond whose shot hit a post before it was cleared.

From the ensuing corner, the ball fell loose for Marshall to cross from the left and Getro Kilapi headed home emphatically at the far post.

Harlow created opportunities in the second half and wasted two excellent ones on 52 minutes and on the hour.

Hammond collected a ball but fired over from seven yards before Kilapi dithered in front of goal and the ball was cleared for a corner.

Defeat a 'nail in the coffin' for promotion

Campion 20, Harlow 15
RFU London, div three north east

THE promotion chances for Harlow are getting slimmer after they lost at lowly Campion.

Saturday's defeat left the Rams in third spot and four points behind second-placed Stowmarket with two matches left.

Only two teams go straight up.

Rams coach Lee Harron said: "It's very disappointing and is a bit of a nail in the coffin.

"We have to win our two remaining games against South Woodham Ferrers [at home this Saturday] and at East London [April 14] and hope other results go our way."

Harlow lined up with Danny Smith at fly-half. He came in for Michael Dobson who was ill.

The Rams played well in the first half hour and went ahead through a 10th-minute Smith penalty.

Campion, who conceded various penalties for scrummaging offences, went down to 14 when one of their players was sin-binned for a loose play offence.

The Rams extended their lead on 25 minutes when prop Martin Cunningham powered over for a try following a line-out.

Smith kicked the conversion, but Campion slotted over a penalty just before the break.

Harlow led 10-3 at half-time.

However, Campion exploited weak tackling to score two tries from open play moves on 60 and 70 minutes.

Both of them were converted to leave the Rams trailing 17-10.

The hosts increased their lead through a 75th-minute penalty. Harlow scored their second try from the last play of the game.

A home clearance kick was charged down and Harlow centre Simon Vanbeck won the race to touch down.

Smith missed the conversion.

This ensured that the Rams gained a bonus point after losing by seven points or less.

Harron added: "We did not push on [when Harlow had the lead] and we relaxed. There was a bit of ill-discipline on our part in the second half.

"We allowed them to get back into the game. Their two tries came through soft defending."

Duo's World Cup call-ups

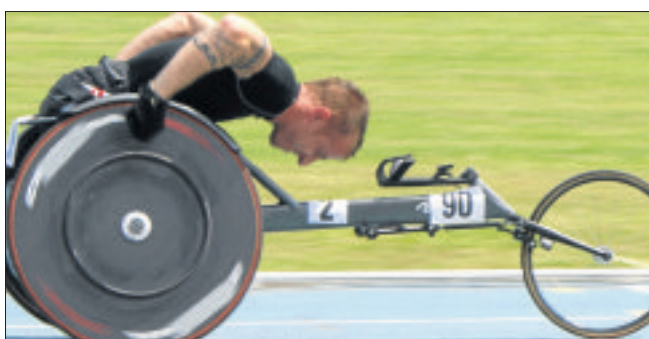

SELECTION:
Anne Strike, above, and Richard Chiassaro (s)

ATHLETES Richard Chiassaro and Anne Strike have begun a pivotal year on a high note – by being named in the Great Britain and Northern Ireland team for the BT Paralympic World Cup in May.

Both the Harlow Athletic Club members are aiming for glory at this year's Paralympic Games in London.

Wheelchair athlete Chiassaro (30), of Seymours in Harlow, is hopeful he can get to the Paralympics in the 100m, but said he is a second off the qualifying time in the 400m.

Strike, of Willowfield in Harlow, has not yet earned a spot at the Paralympics but will take great heart from being named in the 24-strong GB&NI squad for the World Cup at the Manchester Regional Arena on May 22.

The BT Paralympic World Cup is the largest annual international multi-sport competition in elite disability sport and will once again be broadcast by Channel 4.

Chiassaro will compete in the T53/54 100m race, where he has high hopes of a medal.

The athlete has just returned to the UK with three medals after a series of outstanding displays in the Sharjah International open athletics meeting in Dubai.

In the 100m he clocked a super-fast time of 15.07 seconds, beating his personal best (PB) as he won his heat. He took a bronze medal in the final.

In the 200m his time of 26.50s was another PB and less than one second behind the world record holder as he clinched a second bronze medal.

In the 400m he recorded another PB of 51.02s winning his heat, but did not go quick enough to secure a medal.

His current UK ranking is No.1 over 100m and 200m and No.2 for 400m.
